

DAVID
s y s t e m s

Do you want to take part in transforming the media industry? Are you interested in promoting professional software and services that enable our radio and media clients to be highly successful? Would you like to work in a global environment in an innovative, highly-qualified, customer-oriented team? We are strengthening our Marketing Team at our Munich location, with a

Student Worker (m/f) / Marketing

As a student worker in Marketing you will work closely with our Senior Marketing Director on a series of marketing related projects. It will be a great opportunity to apply your learnings in a fun, collaborative environment. You will be able to form creative strategies and develop tactical executions. A great stepping stone for a career in marketing and media.

Your Responsibilities:

- Initiate and manage communication program
- Develop social media campaigns and content development
- Manage the development of creative assets
- Develop, capture and analyze company, digital and social metrics

Your Profile:

- Interest in media industry
- Concentration in Marketing
- Aptitude to take direction and take on responsibility quickly
- Experience with content creation and social media
- Ability to multitask
- Very good English and German language skills

If you are looking for a personal challenge in a growing international environment, please send your application to Rosemarie Mohr: join@davidsystems.com

About DAVID Systems:

DAVID Systems is an enterprise software company, renowned for its open, customizable and scalable software for rich media workflows, deployed in some of the largest and most innovate radio stations and media companies worldwide. The company, founded in 1991, is privately owned and headquartered in Munich, Germany with offices in Berlin and Washington, DC. Customers include the German ARD, the Swiss SRG, RTL102.5 in Italy, France Médias Monde in France, NPR in the USA and NRK and P4 in Scandinavia.